

Diving at the Long Bay House

The waters off of Green Turtle Cay are some of the prettiest you will ever see. The Cay has an array of reefs that run parallel to the entire length of the island. In many places there are inner, middle and outer reefs, all within a mile of the house. You can swim right off Long Bay Beach, but if you prefer to explore the reefs, you have several options. You can rent a boat and go diving on your own, or if you prefer a guide for snorkeling or scuba diving, you can contact Green Turtle Cay's renowned divemaster, Brendal Stevens. You can check out his website at www.brendal.com.

We have caverns to explore and beautiful coral heads teeming with almost every variety of tropical fish: giant yellow fin rock fish, nassaua grouper, loggerhead turtles, crawfish, and yellow tails by the ton.

You can bring your own equipment or rent gear at the local dive shop. Go on supervised dives with a group or go on your own at a multitude of sites, ship wrecks, and rock formations. If you are not ready for a deep dive or night dive, you can experience all of the beauty with just a snorkel and mask. Many of our reefs are within walking distance, right off of the beach.

If you are a pro or a novice we have something for you to enjoy at the Long Bay House on Green Turtle Cay.
